Switching to Grass Fed Beef ??

"Advocates of pasture-raised beef say the reasons to switch go beyond nutrition. The animal is raised in a more humane fashion that is also better for the environment."
"Labels on grass-fed beef can be misleading, and some meat carrying a "grass-fed" label was still "finished" on grains at a feed lot." ~ New York Times

Studies have found that animals raised outdoors in the sunshine have higher levels of antioxidant vitamins such as D & E, in contrast to animals conventionally grown on factory farms.

OURS ARE NEVER RAISED IN FEED LOTS!!

We're out there caring for them rain or shine, summer or winter. Organic-type practices are definitely more labor intense than conventional.

So WHY obtain PORK from TURTLEBEE FARMS?

QUESTION: What is it we want most in our food?

ANSWER: Good Nutrition & Good Flavor

Researchers have found that animals raised outdoors & in the sunshine hold higher amounts of nutrition (like vitamin D) than those raised conventionally.

For the consumer, the more nutritious the food, the more enjoyably satisfied our appetites will be!

At Turtlebee Farms we raise & retail the animals at our own farm. They're happy in the open outdoor spaces, shade or sun.
